

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA
SESSION 2011

SESSION LAW 2012-38
HOUSE BILL 149

AN ACT TO CREATE THE CRIMINAL OFFENSE OF TERRORISM.

Whereas, closed community compounds are located across the United States and near the borders of this State; and

Whereas, these compounds have limited public access and are reputed to be bound together by a common purpose or ideology; and

Whereas, there have been reports of weapons fire and military-type training occurring at some of these compounds; and

Whereas, a defendant who was convicted of the attempted murder of nine students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill as an act of revenge for enemy casualties of war was not charged under federal domestic terrorism laws; and

Whereas, the current State criminal statutes do not sufficiently recognize the increased danger to the public and do not sanction appropriately acts of terrorism; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 3A.

However, the forfeiture of any real or personal property shall be subordinate to any security interest in the property taken by a lender in good faith as collateral for the extension of credit and recorded as provided by law, and no real or personal property shall be forfeited under this section against an owner who made a bona fide purchase of the property, or a person with rightful possession of the property, without knowledge of a violation of this Article."
