The North Carolina Army National Guard Family Programs provides the eight essential services for Service Members and their families and this includes: ID cards and DEERS updates; Tricare information; Financial support; Legal support; Crisis intervention; Emergency Family Assistance Center Operations; Exceptional Family Member Program; Community Information and Outreach Services.

The Soldier and Family Readiness Specialist work with a total of roughly 9,000 active Service Members and all retired veterans from Active Duty and Reserve Components that are local to their area. They also work with all family members for each of the actively serving and retired military personnel.

The Soldier and Family Readiness Specialist also work with Mobilizing units and ensure their family members are taken care of with the support they need while their Soldiers are deployed. They attend and brief at Yellow Ribbon events, Soldier Readiness Events, and Family Day events.
