Upon the return day the said clerk shall appoint a disinterested and competent civil and drainage engineer and two resident freeholders of the county or counties in which said lands are located as a board of viewers to examine the lands described in the petition and make a preliminary report thereon. Such drainage engineer shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the State Geologist, and the compensation for the services of such engineer and his necessary assistants, to be fixed as herein provided, shall be paid by the State Geological and Economic Survey, said sum or sums so paid to be refunded when the drainage fund is subsequently provided by the sale of bonds or otherwise. The board of viewers shall proceed to examine the land described in said petition, and other land if necessary to locate properly such improvement or improvements as are petitioned for, along the route described in the petition, or any other route answering the same purpose if found more practicable or feasible, and may make surveys such as may be necessary to determine the boundaries and elevation of the several parts of the district, and shall make and return to the clerk of the Superior Court within thirty days, unless the time shall be extended by the court, a written report, which shall set forth:

3. Whether the improvement proposed will benefit the lands sought to be benefited. If drainage will benefit the specific lands;

4. Whether or not all the lands that are benefited are included in the proposed drainage district. If all lands to be benefited are included.

They shall also file with this report a map of the proposed drainage district, showing the location of the ditch or ditches or other improvement to be constructed and the lands that will be affected thereby, and such other information as they may have collected that will tend to show the correctness of their findings. Map to be filed. Other information.

SEC. 4. Filing preliminary report.

The clerk of the Superior Court shall consider this report. If the viewers report that the drainage is not practicable or that it will not benefit the public health or any public highway or be conducive to the general welfare of the community, and the court shall approve such findings, the petition shall be dismissed at the cost of the petitioners. Such petition or proceeding may again be instituted by the same or additional landowners at any time after six months, upon proper allegations that conditions have changed or that material facts were omitted or overlooked. If the viewers report that the drainage is practicable and that it will benefit the public health or any public highway or be conducive to the general welfare of the community, and the court shall so find, then the court shall fix a day when the report will be further heard and considered. Clerk to consider report. Petition dismissed if work not reported practicable and beneficial. Petition renewed after six months. Day for further hearing if report be favorable.

SEC. 5. Notice.

If the petition is entertained by the court, notice shall be given by publication for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation within the county or counties, if one shall be published in such counties, and also by posting a written or printed notice at the door of the courthouse and at five conspicuous places within the drainage district that on the date set, naming the day, the court will consider and pass upon the report of the viewers. At least fifteen days shall intervene between the date of the publication and the posting of the notices and the date set for the hearing. Notice of hearing. Time of notice.

SEC. 6. Hearing preliminary report.

At the date appointed for the hearing the court shall hear and determine any objections that may be offered to the report of the viewers. If it appear that there is any land within the proposed levee or drainage district that will not be affected by the leveeing or drainage thereof, such lands shall be excluded and the names of the owners withdrawn from such proceeding; and if it shall be shown that there is any land not within the proposed district that will be affected by the construction of the proposed levee or drain, the boundary of the district shall be so changed as to Court to hear and determine objections. Amendments to petition and changes in boundary and location.

include such land, and such additional landowners shall be made parties plaintiff or defendant, respectively, and summons shall issue accordingly, as hereinbefore provided. After such change in the boundary is made, the sufficiency of the petition shall be verified, to determine whether or not it conforms to the requirements of the statute as provided in section two. The efficiency of the drainage or levees may also be determined, and if it appears that the location of any levee or drain can be changed so as to make it more effective, or that other branches or spurs should be constructed, or that any branch or spur projected may be eliminated or other changes made that will tend to increase the benefits of the proposed work, such modification and changes shall be made by the board. The engineer and the other two viewers may attend this meeting and give any information or evidence that may be sought to verify and substantiate their report. If necessary, the petition, as amended, shall be referred by the court to the engineer and two viewers for further report. The above facts having been determined to the satisfaction of the court, and the boundaries of the proposed district so determined, it shall declare the establishment of the drainage or levee district, which shall be designated by a name or number, for the object and purpose as herein set forth.

SEC. 7. May condemn land.

If it shall be necessary to acquire a right of way or an outlet over and through lands not affected by the drainage, and the same cannot be acquired by purchase, then and in such event the power of eminent domain is hereby conferred, and the same may be condemned. Such owner or owners of the land proposed to be condemned may be made parties defendant in the manner of an ancillary proceeding, and the procedure shall be substantially as provided for the condemnation of rights of way for railroads in chapter sixty-one of the Revisal of one thousand nine hundred and five, so far as the same may be applicable, and such damages as may be awarded as compensation shall be paid by the board of drainage commissioners out of the first funds which shall be available from the proceeds of sale of bonds or otherwise.

SEC. 8. Right of appeal.

Any person or corporation owning lands within the drainage or levee district which he or it thinks will not be benefited by the improvement and should not be included in the district may appeal from the decision of the court to the Superior Court of such county, in term time, by filing an appeal, accompanied by a bond conditioned for the payment of the costs, if the appeal should be decided against him, for such sum as the court may require, not exceeding two hundred dollars, signed by two or more solvent sureties, or in some approved surety company, to be approved by the court.

SEC. 9. Complete survey.

After the district is established the court shall refer the report of the engineer and viewers back to them to make a complete survey, plans and specifications for the drains or levees or other improvements, and fix a time when said engineer and viewers shall complete and file their report, not exceeding sixty days.

SEC. 10. Complete report.

The engineer and viewers shall have power to employ such assistants as may be necessary to make a complete survey of the drainage district, and shall enter upon the ground and make a survey of the main drain or drains and all its lateral. The line of each ditch, drain or levee shall be plainly and substantially marked on the ground. The course and distance of each ditch shall be carefully noted and sufficient notes made, so that it may be accurately plotted and mapped. A line of levels shall be run for the entire work and sufficient data secured from which accurate profiles and plans may be made. Frequent bench marks shall be established along the line, on permanent objects, and their elevation recorded in the field books. If it is deemed expedient by the engineer and viewers, other levels may be run to determine the fall from one part of the district to another. If an old water course, ditch or channel is being widened, deepened or straightened, it shall be accurately cross-sectioned, so as to compute the amount of cubic yards saved by the use of such old channel. A drainage map of the district shall then be completed, showing the location of the ditch or ditches and other improvements and the boundary, as closely as may be determined by the records of the lands owned by each individual landowner within the district. The location of any railroads or public highways and the boundary of any incorporated towns or villages within the district shall be shown on the map. There shall also be prepared to accompany this map a profile of each levee, drain or water course, showing the surface of the ground, the bottom or grade of the proposed improvement and the number of cubic yards of excavation or fill in each mile or fraction thereof, and the total yards in the proposed improvement and the estimated cost thereof, and plans and specifications, and the cost of any other work required to be done.

SEC. 11. Assessment of damages.

It shall be the further duty of the engineer and viewers to assess the damages claimed by anyone that is justly right and due to them for land taken or for inconvenience imposed because of the construction of the improvement, or for any other legal damages sustained. Such damage shall be considered separate and apart from any benefit the land would receive because of the proposed work, and shall be paid by the board of drainage commissioners when funds shall come into their hands.

SEC. 12. Classification of land according to benefits.

Considerations in determining benefit.

Land in five classes, "A," "B," "C," "D," and "E."

Number of acres in each class ascertained.

Total acreage.

Scale of assessment.

It shall be the further duty of the engineer and viewers to personally examine the land in the district and classify it with reference to the benefit it will receive from the construction of the levee, ditch, drain or water course or other improvement. In the case of drainage, the degree of wetness on the land, its proximity to the ditch or a natural outlet and the fertility of the soil shall be considered in determining the amount of benefit it will receive by the construction of the ditch. The land benefited shall be separated in five classes. The land receiving the highest benefit shall be marked "Class A"; that receiving the next highest benefit, "Class B"; that receiving the next highest benefit, "Class C"; that receiving the next highest benefit, "Class D," and that receiving the smallest benefit, "Class E." The holdings of any one landowner need not necessarily be all in one class, but the number of acres in each class shall be ascertained, though its boundary need not be marked on the ground or shown on the map. The total number of acres owned by one person in each class and the total number of acres benefited shall be determined. The total number of acres of each class in the entire district shall be obtained and presented in tabulated form. The scale of assessment upon the several classes of land returned by the engineer and viewers shall be in the ratio of five, four, three, two and one; that is to say, as often as five mills per acre is assessed against the land in "Class A," four mills per acre shall be assessed against the land in "Class B," three mills per acre in "Class C," two mills per acre in "Class D," and one mill per acre in "Class E." This shall form the basis of the assessment of benefits to the lands for drainage purposes.

SEC. 13. Cost of the survey.

Account kept and reported to court.

The engineer and viewers shall keep an accurate account and report to the court the name and number of days each person was employed on the survey and the kind of work he was doing, and any expenses that may have been incurred in going to and from the work, and the cost of any supplies or material that may have been used in making the survey.

SEC. 14. Delay—Extension of time.

Court may extend time for cause shown.

In case the work is delayed by high water, sickness or any other good cause, and the report is not completed at the time fixed by the court, the engineer and viewers shall appear before the court and state in writing the cause of such failure and ask for sufficient time in which to complete the work, and the court shall set another date by which the report shall be completed and filed.

SEC. 15. Final report—Notice of hearing.

When the final report is completed and filed it shall be examined by the court, and if it is found to be in due form and in accordance with the law it shall be accepted, and if not in due form it may be referred back to the engineer and viewers, with instructions to secure further information, to be reported at a subsequent date to be fixed by the court. When the report is fully completed and accepted by the court a date not less than twenty days thereafter shall be fixed by the court for the final hearing upon the report, and notice thereof shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county and by posting a written or printed notice on the door of the courthouse and at five conspicuous places throughout the district, such publication to be made for at least two weeks before the final hearing. During this time a copy of the report shall be on file in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court and shall be open to the inspection of any landowner or other person interested within the district.

SEC. 16. Adjudication—Final report.

At the date set for hearing any landowner may appear in person or by counsel and file his objection in writing to the report of the viewers; and it shall be the duty of the court to carefully review the report of the viewers and the objections filed thereto, and make such changes as are necessary to render substantial and equal justice to all the landowners in the district. If, in the opinion of the court, the cost of construction, together with the amount of damages assessed, is not greater than the benefits that will accrue to the land affected, the court shall confirm the report of the viewers. If, however, the court finds that the cost of construction, together with the damages assessed, is greater than the resulting benefit that will accrue to the lands affected, the court shall dismiss the proceedings at the cost of the petitioners, and the sureties upon the bond so filed by them shall be liable for such costs: Provided, that the State Geological and Economic Survey may remit and release to the petitioners the costs expended by said board on account of the engineer and his assistants. The court may from time to time collect from the petitioners such amounts as may be necessary to pay costs accruing, other than costs of the engineer and his assistants, such amounts to be repaid from the special tax hereby authorized.

Such drainage commissioners shall first be elected by the owners of land within the drainage or levee district, or by a majority of same, in such manner as the court shall prescribe. The court shall appoint those receiving a majority of the votes. If any one or more of such proposed commissioners shall not receive the vote of a majority of such landowners the court shall appoint all or the remainder from among those voted for in the election. No bid shall be entertained that exceeds the estimated cost, except for good and satisfactory reasons it shall be shown that the original estimate was erroneous. They shall have the right to reject all bids and advertise again the work, if in their judgment the interest of the district will be subserved by doing so. SEC. 24. Right of contractor.

Right of contractor to enter on lands.

In the construction of the work the contractor shall have the right to enter upon the lands necessary for this purpose and the right to remove private or public bridges or fences and to cross private lands in going to or from the work. In case the right of way of the improvement is through timber the owner thereof shall have the right to remove it, if he so desires, before the work of construction begins, and in case it is not removed by the landowner it shall become the property of the contractor and may be removed by him.

Removal and ownership of timber.

SEC. 25. Highways affected.

Cost of drains across highways.

Where any public ditch, drain or water course established under the provisions of this act crosses a public highway the actual cost of constructing the same across the highway or removing old bridges or building new ones shall be paid for from the fund of the drainage district. Wherever any highway within the levee or drainage district shall be beneficially affected by the construction of any improvement or improvements in such district it shall be the duty of the reviewers appointed to classify the land to give in their report the amount of benefit to such highway, and notice shall be given by the clerk of the Superior Court to the clerk of the board of county commissioners in the county where the road is located of the amount of such assessment, and the county commissioners shall have the right to appear before the court and file its objections, the same as any landowner.

Whenever the engineer and the viewers in charge shall make a survey for the purpose of locating a public levee or drainage district or changing a natural water course, and the same would cross the right of way of any railroad company, it shall be the duty of the owner in charge of the work to notify the railroad company, by serving written notice upon the agent of such company or its lessee or receiver, that they will meet the company at the place where the proposed ditch, drain or water course crosses the right of way of such company, said notice fixing the time of such meeting, which shall not be less than ten days after the service of the same, for the purpose of conferring with said railroad company with relation to the place where and the manner in which such improvement shall cross such right of way. When the time shall arrive fixed for such conference, unless for good cause more time is agreed upon, it shall be the duty of the viewers in charge and the railroad company to agree, if possible, upon the place where and the manner and method in which such improvement shall cross such right of way. If the viewers in charge and the railroad company cannot agree, or if the railroad company shall fail, neglect or refuse to confer with the viewers, they shall determine the place and manner of crossing the right of way of said railroad company, and shall specify the number and size of openings required, and the damages, if any, to said railroad company, and so specify in their report. The fact that the railroad company is required by the construction of the improvement to build a new bridge or culvert or to enlarge or strengthen an old one shall not be considered as damages to said railroad company. The engineer and viewers shall also assess the benefits that will accrue to the right of way, roadbed and other property of said company by affording better drainage or a better outlet for drainage, but no benefits shall be assessed because of the increase in business that may come to said road because of the construction of the improvement. The benefits shall be assessed as a fixed sum, determined solely by the physical benefit that its property will receive by the construction of said improvement, and it shall be reported by the viewers as a special assessment, due personally from the railroad company as a special assessment; it may be collected in the manner of an ordinary debt in any court having jurisdiction.

SEC. 27. Notice to railroad.

The clerk of the Superior Court shall have notice served upon the railroad company of the time and place of the meeting to hear and determine the final report of the engineer and viewers, and the said railroad company shall have the right to file objections to said report and to appeal from the findings of the board of commissioners in the same manner as any landowner. But such an appeal shall not delay or defeat the construction of the improvement.

Notice of final hearing to be served on railroad company.

SEC. 28. Manner of crossing right of way—Penalty for delay—Cost.

After the contract is let and the actual construction is commenced, if the work is being done with a floating dredge, the superintendent in charge of construction shall notify the railroad company of the probable time at which the contractor will be ready to enter upon the right of way of said road and construct the work thereon. It shall be the duty of said railroad to send a representative to view the ground with the superintendent of construction and arrange the exact time at which such work can be most conveniently done. At the time agreed upon the said railroad company shall remove its rails, ties, stringers and such other obstructions as may be necessary to permit the dredge to excavate the channel across its right of way. The work shall be so planned and conducted as to interfere in the least possible manner with the business of said railroad. In case the railroad company refuses and fails to remove its track and allow the dredge to construct the work on its right of way it shall be held as delaying the construction of the improvement, and such company shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars per day for each day of delay, to be collected by the board of drainage commissioners for the benefit of the drainage district as in the case of other penalties. Such a fine may be collected in any court having jurisdiction and shall inure to the benefit of the drainage district. Within thirty days after the work is completed, an itemized bill for the actual expenses incurred by the railroad company for opening its tracks shall be made and presented to the superintendent of construction of the drainage improvement. Such bill, however, shall not include the cost of putting in a new bridge or strengthening or enlarging an old one. The superintendent of construction shall audit this bill and, if found correct, approve the same and file it with the secretary of the board of drainage commissioners. The commissioners shall deduct from this bill the cost of the excavation done by the dredge on the right of way of said railroad company at the contract price, and pay the difference, if any, to said railroad company.

SEC. 29. Control and repairs.

Whenever any improvement constructed under this act is completed it shall be under the control and supervision of the board of drainage commissioners. It shall be the duty of the said board to keep the levee, ditch, drain or water course in good repair, and for this purpose they may levy an assessment on the lands benefited by the construction of such improvement in the same manner and in the same proportion as the original assessments were made, and the fund that is collected shall be used for repairing and maintaining the ditch, drain or water course in perfect order: Provided, however, that if any repairs are made necessary by the act or negligence of the owner of any land through which such improvement is constructed or by the act or negligence of his agent or employee, or if the same is caused by the cattle, hogs or other stock of said owner, employee or agent, then the cost thereof shall be assessed and levied against the lands of said owner alone, to be collected by proper suit instituted by the drainage commissioners. It shall be unlawful for any person to injure or damage or obstruct or build any bridge, fence or flood gate in such a way as to injure or damage any levee, ditch, drain or water course constructed or improved under the provisions of this act, and any person causing such injury shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof may be fined in any sum not exceeding twice the damage or injury done or caused.

SEC. 30. Outlet for lateral drains.

The owner of any land that has been assessed for the cost of the construction of any ditch, drain or water course, as herein provided, shall have the right to use the ditch, drain or water course as an outlet for lateral drains from said land; and if said land is separated from the ditch, drain or water course by the land of another or others, and the owner thereof shall be unable to agree with said other or others as to the terms and conditions on which he may enter their lands and construct said drain or ditch, he may file his ancillary petition in such pending proceeding to the court, and the procedure shall be as now provided by law. When the ditch is constructed it shall become a part of the drainage system and shall be under the control of the board of drainage commissioners and be kept in repair by them as herein provided.

Rights of owners of assessed lands.

Procedure for condemnation of access to drain.

SEC. 31. Assessment-tax roll.

After the classification of the land and the ratio of assessment of the different classes to be made thereon has been confirmed by the court, the drainage commissioners shall prepare an assessment roll or drainage-tax duplicate, giving a description of all the land in said drainage district, the name of the owner, so far as can be ascertained from the public records, and the amount of assessment against each of the several tracts of land. In preparing this assessment roll the board shall ascertain the total cost of the improvement, including the damages awarded and to be paid to the owners of land, and all incidental expenses, and deduct therefrom any special assessment made against any railroad or highway, and the remainder shall be the amount to be borne and paid by the lands benefited. This amount shall be assessed against the several tracts of land according to the benefit received, as shown by the classification and ratio of assessment made by the viewers and confirmed by the board of drainage commissioners. This drainage-tax roll shall be made in duplicate, signed by the chairman and secretary, and one copy filed with the drainage record and the other delivered to the sheriff or other county tax collector. There shall be appended an order to collect the said assessments, and the same shall have the force and effect of a judgment as in the case of State and county taxes.

At the expiration of the thirty days after the publication the board of drainage commissioners may issue bonds for the full amount of the assessment not paid in to the county treasurer, together with the interest thereon, costs of collection or other incidental expenses. These bonds shall bear six per cent interest per annum, payable annually, and shall be paid in ten equal annual installments. The first installment of the principal shall mature at the expiration of three years from the date of issue, and one installment each succeeding year for nine additional years. The commissioners may sell these bonds at not less than par and devote the proceeds to the payment of the work as it progresses. In no case shall bonds be issued until the tax levy has been made to meet them as they come due. The bonds issued shall be for the exclusive use of the levee or drainage district specified on their face, and should be numbered by the board of drainage commissioners and recorded in the drainage record, which record shall set out specifically the lands embraced in the district on which the tax has not been paid in full, and which land is assessed for the payment of the bonds issued and the interest thereon. SEC. 35. Relevy.

Where the court has confirmed an assessment for the construction of any public levee, ditch or drain, and such assessment has been modified by the court of superior jurisdiction, but for some unforeseen cause it cannot be collected, the board of drainage commissioners shall have power to change or modify the assessment as originally confirmed to conform to the judgment of the Superior Court and to cover any deficit that may have been caused by the order of said court or unforeseen occurrence. The said relevy shall be made for the additional sum required, in the same ratio on the lands benefited as the original assessment was made.

If on appeal the court shall deem it just and proper to release any person or to modify his assessment or liability, it shall in no manner affect the rights and legality of any person other than the appellant, and the failure to appeal from the order of the court within the time specified shall be a waiver of any illegality in the proceedings, and the remedies provided for in this act shall exclude all other remedies.

AN ACT TO DRAIN THE LOWLANDS OF CLARK'S CREEK AND ITS TRIBUTARIES, IN LINCOLN COUNTY.

Whereas there are many acres of land on Clark's Creek and its tributaries, in Lincoln County, that have been, are now and are liable to be greatly damaged and diminished by reason of the shallow and narrow channel of said creek and the filling of same, by reason of the limited and sluggish flow of said creek and improper drainage; and whereas, by reason of same, the bottom lands overflow and become wet and soggy, the formation of cesspools and the injured condition of the soil, the health of the community has been greatly injured and much sickness caused thereby; and whereas a conservative assessment upon the acreage to be benefited would make a fund sufficient, if wisely and judiciously expended, to lower the channel and bed of said stream, by excavation, the widening and changing the creek and removing the obstruction, giving said creek a better fall and outlet for the water, would thereby greatly remedy and improve the condition of the land, dry and reclaim the wet and overflowed lands, making same productive to cultivation, increasing its value, and more especially improve the sanitary condition and health of the public and community in general; and whereas it is impracticable to do this much-needed work without legislative aid, whereby there can be concentrated effort equally and mutually beneficial to all the owners: therefore,

That the boundary as herein described and designated be and the same is established as a drainage district: Provided, that any lands within the corporate limits of the town of Lincolnton shall not be subject to assessment: Provided, also, that the lands and property of the Elm Grove Cotton Mills shall not be subject to assessment.

Proviso: land in Lincolnton not liable to assessment.

Proviso: lands and property of Elm Grove cotton mills exempt. Commission to examine and classify land.

SEC. 4. It shall be the further duty of the said commission to view and personally examine the land embraced within the radius mentioned in paragraph three herein, and classify it with reference to the benefit it will receive from the canaling and improvement and work contemplated in this act; and the said commission will take into consideration the degree of wetness of the lands, its proximity to the creek, its natural outlet and the fertility of the soil, which shall be considered in determining the amount of benefits it will receive by the contemplated improvements. The land benefited shall be separated into five classes: The land receiving the highest benefit shall be marked "Class A," that receiving the next highest benefit "Class B," that receiving the next highest benefit "Class C," that receiving the next highest benefit "Class D," and that receiving the smallest benefit "Class E." The holdings of any one landowner need not necessarily be all in one class, but the number of acres in each class shall be ascertained, though its boundary need not be marked on the ground or shown on any map. The total number of acres owned by one person in each class and the total number of acres benefited shall be determined. The total number of acres of each class in the entire district shall be estimated, as nearly as practicable, and presented in tabulated form. The scale of assessment upon the several classes of land returned by the commissioners or found by them shall be in the ratio of five, four, three, two and one—that is to say, as often as five mills per acre is assessed against the lands in "Class A," four mills per acre be assessed against the lands in "Class B," three mills per acre in "Class C," two mills per acre in "Class D," and one mill per acre in "Class E." This shall form the basis of the assessment of benefits to the lands. That after said commission has assessed the benefits to the lands, they shall give notice at the courthouse door in Lincolnton, Lincoln County, and by posting notice at five points along the line of Clark's Creek, appointing a day on which said board of commissioners will meet at the courthouse in Lincolnton, Lincoln County, to hear any and all complaints of the landowners of the assessments made against said lands, which said notice shall give ten days' time or notice of said meeting, at which time the said commission will sit as a body to hear and determine all complaints that may be filed with them, and shall have the right to hear any and all evidence introduced and offered in said matter, and determine the proper assessment

After the classification of the land and the ratio of assessments of the different classes to be made thereon has been made, formulated and tabulated by the commission, the said commission shall prepare an assessment roll, giving a description of all the land ascertained from the public records and the amount of assessment against each of the several tracts of land. In preparing this assessment roll the boards shall ascertain the total cost of the improvement, including the damages awarded and to be paid to the owners of land, and all incidental expenses, and the remainder shall be the amount to be borne and paid by the lands benefited. This amount shall be assessed against the several tracts of land according to the benefits received, as shown by the classification and ratio of assessment made by the commission. This drainage roll, showing the amount assessed and to be paid by the various and several tracts of land by the owners thereof, shall be made in duplicate, signed by the chairman and secretary, and one copy filed with the secretary as part of the records of his office, and the other delivered to the sheriff or other county tax collector of Lincoln County, which said roll shall show the name of the owner, the number of acres of land upon which assessment has been made and the amount due by said landowner, and there shall be appended an order to collect the said assessments and amounts so certified, and same shall have the force and effect of a judgment, as in the case of State and county taxes, and shall be collected in the same manner, with the same powers, same responsibilities and settled in the same way as taxes are required to be collected and settled under the general laws, except the same shall be due and payable from date of said assessment roll being delivered to the sheriff for collection. made by said commission, it shall have the right to levy an assessment upon said benefits in an amount annually not exceeding five dollars per acre, until the whole thereof is paid or said contemplated improvement completed, or if the total cost of the work is less than an average of five dollars per acre on all the lands in the district the assessment made against the several tracts can be collected in one installment, in the discretion of the commission, or in two or three installments, in the discretion of said commission, by the officer as herein directed, in the same manner as State and county taxes are collected and payable. In case the total assessment exceeds the average of five dollars per acre, or even one dollar per acre, or fifty cents per acre, the said Clark's Creek Drainage Commission may give notice of three weeks by publication in some newspaper in Lincoln County, North Carolina, if there be one, and also by posting a written or printed notice at the courthouse door in Lincoln County and five conspicuous places in the drainage district that they propose to issue bonds for the construction of said improvement, giving the amount of bonds to be issued, the rate of interest they are to bear, and the time when payable, not exceeding in amount fifteen thousand dollars, nor exceeding the amount of assessed benefit for said work and improvement contemplated, which said issues of bonds shall be for a period from date of same not more than ten years, bearing six per cent interest. Any landowner having lands assessed in the district and not wanting to pay interest on the bonds may, within thirty days after the publication of said notice, pay the treasurer the full amount of his assessments and have his land released therefrom. Neglect to pay same to the treasurer within said time shall be deemed as consenting to the issuing of said bonds, and in consideration of the right to pay his assessments he thereby waives his right to any defense against collection of said assessment because of any irregularity, illegality or defect prior to that time, except in the case of an appeal, as hereinbefore provided, which is not affected by this waiver. The term "person," as used in this act, includes firm, company or corporation. At the expiration of thirty days after the publication, the Clark's Creek Drainage Commission may issue bonds for the full amount of the assessments not paid in to the treasurer, with the interest thereon, costs of collection or other incidental expenses; the bonds to bear six per cent interest per annum, payable annually, and shall be paid in equal installments of not exceeding ten years, to be fixed by said commission. The said bonds so issued shall have attached thereto coupons representing the interest on said bonds, which coupons shall be due and payable annually, and shall bear the same number of the corresponding bond. Said bonds shall be issued in the name of Clark's Creek Drainage Commission and shall be signed by its chairman and attested by the secretary and the official seal

That in order to meet said bonds at maturity and to pay the interest on same, they are authorized, instead of collecting from the said lands so assessed for the benefits to be derived by said improvement in one full sum, to assess and collect annually a pro rata part of said assessment or a sufficient sum, and levy upon the benefits to each landowner an amount annually to meet said interest and create a sinking fund to pay said bonds at maturity, and as said sinking fund accumulates the said commission are authorized to loan same and apply the interest so collected to said sinking fund, and continue to do so until said bond issue

CHAPTER 635.

AN ACT TO DRAIN THE LOWLANDS OF CLARK'S CREEK
AND ITS TRIBUTARIES, IN CATAWBA COUNTY.

Preamble. Whereas there are many acres of land on Clark's Creek and its tributaries, in Catawba County, that have been, are now and are liable to be greatly damaged and diminished by reason of the shallow and narrow channel of said creek and the filling of same, by reason of the limited and sluggish flow of said creek and improper drainage; and whereas, by reason of same, the bottom lands overflow and become wet and soggy, the formation of cesspools and the injured condition of the soil, the health of the community has been greatly injured and much sickness caused thereby; and whereas a conservative assessment upon the acreage to be benefited would make a fund sufficient, if wisely and judiciously expended, to lower the channel and bed of said stream, by excavation, the widening and changing the creek, and removing the obstruction, giving said creek a better fall and outlet for the water, would thereby greatly remedy and improve the condition of the land, dry and reclaim the wet and overflowed lands, making same productive to cultivation, increasing its value, and more especially improve the sanitary condition and health of the public and community in general; and whereas, it is impracticable to do this much-needed work without legislative aid, whereby there can be concentrated effort equally and mutually beneficial to all the owners: therefore,

Examination and classification of lands.	SEC. 4. It shall be the further duty of the said commission to view and personally examine the land embraced within the radius mentioned in paragraph three herein, and classify it with reference to the benefit it will receive from the canalizing and improvement and work contemplated in this act; and the said commission will take into consideration the degree of wetness of the lands, its proximity to the creek, its natural outlet and the fertility of the soil, which shall be considered in determining the amount of benefits it will receive by the contemplated improvements. The land benefited shall be separated into five classes: The land receiving the highest benefit shall be marked "Class K," that receiving the next highest benefit "Class L," that receiving the next highest benefit "Class M," that receiving the next highest benefit "Class N," and that receiving the smallest benefit "Class O." The holdings of any one landowner need not necessarily be all in one class, but the number of acres in each class shall be ascertained, though its boundary need not be marked on the ground or shown on any map. The total number of acres owned by one person in each class and the total number of acres benefited shall be determined. The total number of acres of each class in the entire district shall be estimated as nearly as practicable and presented in tabulated form. The scale of assessment upon the several classes of land returned by the commission or found by them shall be in the ratio of five, four, three, two and one—that is to say, as often as five mills per acre is assessed against the lands in "Class K," four mills per acre be assessed against the lands in "Class L," three mills per acre in "Class M," two mills per acre in "Class N," and one mill per acre in "Class O." This shall form the basis of the assessment of benefits to the lands. That after said commission has assessed the benefits to the lands they shall give notice at the courthouse door in Newton, Catawba County, and by posting notice at five points along the line of Clark's Creek, appointing a day on which said board of commissioners will meet at the courthouse in Newton, Catawba County, to hear any and all complaints of the landowners of the assessments made against said lands, which said notice shall give ten days' time or notice of said meeting, at which time the said commission will sit as a body to hear and determine all complaints that may be filed with them, and shall have the right to hear any and all evidence introduced and offered in said matter, and determine the proper assessment against said complainants and fix the assessment against all the lands within the radius mentioned and set forth in section three

Said appeal shall have priority in point of trial upon appeal to the Superior Court, and shall stand for trial at next term of said court, by reason of its public nature.

SEC. 5. After the classification of the land and the ratio of assessment of the different classes to be made thereon has been made, formulated and tabulated by the commission, the said commission shall prepare an assessment roll, giving a description of all the land ascertained from the public records and the amount of assessment against each of the several tracts of land. In preparing this assessment roll the board shall ascertain the total cost of the improvement, including the damages awarded and to be paid to the owners of land, and all incidental expenses, and the remainder shall be the amount to be borne and paid by the lands benefited. This amount shall be assessed against the several tracts of land according to the benefits received, as shown by the classification and ratio of assessment made by the commission. This drainage roll, showing the amount assessed and to be paid by the various and several tracts of land by the owners thereof, shall be made in duplicate, signed by the chairman and secretary, and one copy filed with the secretary as part of the records of his office and the other delivered to the sheriff or other county tax collector of Catawba County, which said roll shall show the name of the owner, the number of acres of land upon which assessments have been made, and the amount due by said landowner, and there shall be appended an order to collect the said assessments and amounts so certified, and same shall have the force and effect of a judgment, as in the case of State and county taxes, and shall be collected in the same manner, with the same powers, same responsibilities and settled in the same way as taxes are required to be collected and settled under the general laws, except the same shall be due and payable from date of said assessment roll being delivered to the sheriff for collection. After said commission has assessed against the several tracts of land according to the benefits received, as shown by the classifications and ratio of assessment as made by said commission, it shall have the right to levy an assessment upon said benefits in an amount annually not exceeding five dollars per acre, until the whole thereof

In case the total assessment exceeds the average of five dollars per acre, or even one dollar per acre or fifty cents per acre, the said Catawba County Drainage Commission, Number One, may give notice of three weeks, by publication in some newspaper in Catawba County, North Carolina, if there be one, and also by posting a written or printed notice at the courthouse door in Catawba County and five conspicuous places in the drainage district, that they propose to issue bonds for the construction of said improvement, giving the amount of bonds to be issued, the rate of interest they are to bear, and the time when payable, not exceeding in amount fifteen thousand dollars nor exceeding the amount of assessed benefits for said work and improvements contemplated, which said issues of bonds shall be for a period from date of same, not more than ten years, bearing six per cent interest. Any landowner having lands assessed in the district and not wanting to pay interest on the bonds may, within thirty days after the publication of said notice, pay the treasurer the full amount of his assessments and have his land released therefrom. Neglect to pay same to the treasurer within said time shall be deemed as consenting to the issuing of said bonds, and in consideration of the right to pay his assessment in installments he thereby waives his right to any defense against collection of said assessment because of any irregularity, illegality or defect prior to that time, except in the case of an appeal, as hereinbefore provided, which is not affected by this waiver. The term "person," as used in this act, includes firm, company or corporation. At the expiration of thirty days after the publication, the Catawba County Drainage Commission, Number One, may issue bonds for the full amount of the assessments not paid in to the treasurer, together with the interest thereon, costs of collection or other incidental expenses; the bonds to bear six per cent interest per annum, payable annually, and shall be paid in equal installments of not exceeding ten years, to be fixed by said commission. The said bonds so issued shall have attached thereto coupons representing the interest on said bonds, which coupons shall be due and payable annually, and shall bear the same number of the corresponding bond. Said bonds shall be issued in the name of the Catawba County Drainage Commission, Number One, and shall be signed by its chairman and attested by the secretary, and the official seal of said corporation attached, and said bonds issued shall be for the exclusive use of prosecuting and carrying on the improvement and work contemplated herein, and shall not be sold by the commission for less than par, and shall be numbered by the commission and recorded in a book for that purpose, showing the purchaser and number of each bond and where payable, and shall set out specifically the lands embraced in the district on which the tax has not been paid in full (tax herein meaning assessment), and which land is assessed for the payment of the bond issued and the interest thereon. This assessment shall constitute the first and paramount lien, second only to State and county taxes, upon the lands assessed for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon as they become due, and shall be collected in the same manner by the same officers as the State and county taxes are collected. If any installment of principal and interest represented by the said bond shall not be paid at the time and in manner when the same shall become due and payable, and such default shall continue for a period of six months, the holder or holders of such bond or bonds upon which default has been made may have a right of action against said commission and corporation of said district, wherein the court may issue a writ of mandamus against the said drainage commission, its officers, including tax collector and treasurer, directing the levying of a tax or special assessment, as herein provided, and the collection of same, in such sum as may be necessary to meet any unpaid installment of principal and interest and cost of action; and such other remedies are hereby vested in the holder or holders of such bond or bonds in default as may be authorized by law; and the right of action is hereby vested in the holder or holders of such bond upon which default has been made, authorizing them to institute suit against any officer on his official bond for failure to perform any duty imposed by the provisions of this act. The official bond of the sheriff or other tax collector of said county shall be liable for the faithful performance of the duties herein assigned him, and such official bond may be increased by the board of county commissioners to meet the additional duties and liabilities imposed by this act, unless the existing bonds shall be ample to cover such increased liabilities. That in order to meet said bonds at maturity and to pay the interest on same, they are authorized, instead of collecting from the said lands so assessed for the benefits to be derived by said improvement in one full sum, to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum and levy upon the benefits to each landowner an amount annually to meet said interest and create a sinking fund to pay said bonds at maturity, and as said sinking fund accumulates the said commission are authorized to loan same and apply the interest so collected to said sinking fund, and continue to do so until said bond issue shall be discharged; and in event said commission desires to pay off said bond issue

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE CLEANING-OUT OF THE HEAD OF PUNGO RIVER, DIGGING A CANAL FOR THE DRAINAGE OF THE LAND AROUND THE HEAD OF SAID RIVER AND ON EITHER SIDE OF SAME, AND BUILDING A PUBLIC ROAD FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE PEOPLE LIVING AT THE HEAD OF SAID RIVER AND ON EITHER SIDE.

Whereas the pressure of water from the swamps around the head of Pungo River is greater than the said river, in its present condition, can carry off; and whereas the cleaning of said river from the Norfolk and Southern Railroad to a point below Indian Run, and digging a canal from thence to some point in Pantego Creek below the town of Pantego, or to some point in Cuckler's Creek, would greatly relieve the pressure of water; and whereas the health of the section immediately surrounding the head of said river and either side of same would be greatly improved and the interest of the farmers who own land on either side of said river or who drain therein would be materially promoted; and whereas

Preamble. the public roads leading from the head of said river are almost impassable; and whereas Mr. W. D. Morrison, of the head of Pungo River, offers to excavate a canal thirty-five feet wide, six feet deep, from the head of Pungo River, beginning at the Norfolk and Southern Railroad, and from thence with the depression or basin of the river swamp to Indian Run, and from thence to Pantego or Cuckler's Creek, as may be determined by the drainage experts from the Department of Agriculture, whose services the hereinafter-mentioned drainage committee shall secure, and to build a public road on the westward bank of said canal for the sum of two dollars per acre for each acre within two and one-half miles of the head of said river and two and one-half miles of either side thereof to within one mile of either creek, which land is already drained: now, therefore, to provide for the improvements mentioned,

SEC. 3. That the names of all candidates to be voted for in each precinct in said county or city shall be printed on one ballot. The names of all those who have been duly nominated by any political party or organization of citizens shall be placed under the appellation or title of such party or organization of citizens, and the ballot shall contain no other names, except in the case of the election of electors of the President and Vice President of the United States; then the names of presidential and vice presidential candidates may be added under the party or political designations. If a constitutional amendment or other public measure be submitted to the people, the question shall be printed on the ballots after the lists of candidates. All ballots shall be of plain white paper, through which printing or writing cannot be read. There shall be provided at each polling place at each election but one form of ballot, which shall contain the names of all candidates whose nominations for any of the offices specified on the ballot have been duly made, together with the title of the office, arranged in tickets or lists under the respective party or political appellations or titles. The lists of candidates of the various parties or organizations shall be printed in parallel columns, headed by the appellations or titles of such parties. Precedence in position of columns shall be given to that party which polled the largest number of votes in the last preceding general election in the county, by placing the list of candidates of such party in the first or left-hand column of the ballot. The number of such columns shall exceed by one the number of tickets or lists of such candidates to be voted for at such voting place. In the column on the right-hand side of each ballot shall be printed the titles of all the offices for which electors at the polling place for which the ballot is provided may lawfully vote, and underneath the title of each office shall be left a blank, in which the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he wishes to vote and whose names are not printed on the ballot, and in the space above the titles of offices shall be printed in briefer capital letters: "The voter may write in column below, under the title of any office, the name of any person whose name is not on this ballot and for whom he wishes to vote." than three-fourths of an inch in diameter, at the left of the party appellation or title at the heads of the respective lists of party candidates, his choice of a straight party ticket and desire to vote for each and every candidate thereunder, or to vote for his choice of any particular candidate or candidates in whatsoever columns or lists of candidates such particular candidates may appear, by making a cross (X) mark in an oblong enclosed blank space on the left of and before the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote. The ballots shall be printed on the same leaf or sheet of paper, with a stub, and separated therefrom by a perforated line, which said line shall extend the entire width of the ballot and be two and one-half inches from the top thereof. On the face of each stub shall be printed in brier capital letters the words: Instructions on face of stubs.

"To vote a straight party ticket, make a cross (X) mark within the circle at the left of the appellation or title of the party; to vote for an individual candidate, make a cross (X) mark in a space before the name of such candidate; to vote for a person not on the ticket, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the right-hand column and make a cross (X) mark in the space immediately before the name. Any mark or erasure made on the ballot, except as above indicated, will make this ballot void, and it cannot be counted. Use only the pens, ink and indelible pencils provided in the booths." And there may be added such other and further instructions as the county board of elections may deem necessary. On the back of the ballot and in the central space (the central one-third of the ballot) thereof, immediately beneath the perforated line, shall be printed in great primer Roman condensed capital letters the words "Official Ballot for," followed by the designation of the polling place for which the ballot was prepared, the day of election and a facsimile of the signature of the officer who has caused the ballots to be printed. On the back of the stub of the ballot, in the central space thereof, and at the top, shall be printed a line, and immediately thereunder and at the right-hand side thereof, in small letters, the word "Name," under which shall be printed a similar line, and immediately thereunder and at the right thereof shall appear the word "Precinct." At the lower left-hand side of said space, on back of the stub, shall appear the word "No.," the usual abbreviation for "number," followed by the proper consecutive number of ballot. The ballot shall conform practically to the form hereto attached and marked "Sample Ballot." All ballots shall be printed in black ink and (with the exception of the party appellation or title, which shall be in display) in brier type; the name or designation of offices shall be in brier lower-case italics, and the names of the candidates therefor shall be in brier capital letters. Between the names of each candidate and the designation of office, under and following such name, there shall be a space of not less than one-fifth of an inch, except that in case of presidential and vice presidential electors one-eighth of an inch shall be sufficient. The heading of each party ticket or list of candidates shall be separate from the rest of the ticket by a printed line of not less than one nor more than two points, and the circle at the left of the party appellation or title shall be defined by a heavier line than the lines defining the oblong blank spaces before and at the left of the names of individual candidates. All the official ballots of the same sort prepared for the same polling places shall be of the same size and arrangement and quality and texture of paper and kind of type, and shall be printed with black ink of the same tint, so that when the stub shall be detached therefrom it shall be impossible to distinguish any one of the ballots from others of the same sort; and the names of all candidates shall be printed in type of the same size and character. If two or more officers are to be elected to the same office for different terms, the term for which each is nominated shall be printed on the ballot as part of the title of the officer. If at any election one representative in Congress is to be elected for a full term and another is to be elected to fill a vacancy, the ballots containing the names of candidates shall, as a part of the title of the office, designate the term or the vacancy to fill which the candidates are severally nominated. In the blank lines on the back of the stub, hereinbefore described, the voter shall be required to write his name and the name of the precinct in which he resides.

AN ACT TO AMEND AN ACT OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, SESSION 1909, ENTITLED "AN ACT TO PRESERVE THE INTEGRITY OF THE BALLOT AND PREVENT ELECTION FRAUDS IN NEW HANOVER COUNTY."

Whereas the act mentioned in the title of this bill has been duly passed by the General Assembly, after having had section nine thereof stricken out; and whereas said section nine was stricken out for the reason that it was the sense of the Senate that the penalty provided therein should have been a misdemeanor and not a felony; and whereas it was the intention of the Senate to make the penalty for a violation of the duties prescribed for election officers under said bill a misdemeanor, and the whole of said section nine was by inadvertence to the exceptions provided in section ten of said bill stricken out; and whereas the said bill provides for the county of New Hanover that form of ballot commonly known as the Australian ballot, of which secrecy is the most essential requirement, and said section nine of said bill was the only section in said bill which provided that election officers and those responsible for the administration of the election laws in said county should preserve the secrecy of the ballot and not give information as to how electors voted; and whereas the elimination of said section nine from said bill would defeat the object of said act: now, therefore, Preamble.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

SECTION 1. That said bill be amended by adding in lieu of said section nine stricken out of said bill, as aforesaid, the following words:

- Divulging vote a misdemeanor. "Sec. 9. That if any registrar, poll holder, judge of election or any other person in any way connected with the conduct of any election or primary election, or with the administration of any law governing such election or primary election held in said county or city under the provisions of this act, learn or remember and tell or in any way make known for what candidate or candidates or set of candidates any voter or elector voted or cast his ballot, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the common jail of the county for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court."
- Punishment. SEC. 2. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.
- Ratified this the 9th day of March, A. D. 1909.

That said section of the Revisal be further amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "All securities offered to the Insurance Commissioner for deposit under this section shall, before acceptance by him, be approved by a committee, composed of the said commissioner, the State Treasurer and the Attorney-General; and, when of the character prescribed by law and approved by a majority of said committee, shall be by the Insurance Commissioner listed in a book of records kept in his department for that purpose. JOINT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONSENTING THAT THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA BE EMBRACED WITHIN THE BENEFITS OF THE CARNEGIE FOUNDATION FUND.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring:

Preamble.

SECTION 1. Whereas the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina, at a meeting held at Chapel Hill on Monday, June first, one thousand nine hundred and eight, received the following communication and adopted the resolutions following, and the said action was approved by the Governor of this State as herein set out, to-wit:

"To the Honorable Board of Trustees:

Memorial to trustees.

"GENTLEMEN:—At the annual meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, held in November, one thousand nine hundred and six, memorials were presented from many State universities urging that they be included in the scope of the plan of retiring allowances. Action looking to the same end was also taken at the last meeting of the National Association of State Universities. Mr. Carnegie has now signified his willingness to extend the provisions of the foundation to State universities, providing entrance requirements to reach the standard required in the foundation, and provided also that the State, acting through its Legislature, make known its desire to have its University included.

"For the time intervening before the meeting of the State Legislature it will be necessary for the trustees of the State University to endorse the petition of the University, which endorsement, with that of the Governor, will put the University within the benefits of the foundation until the Legislature meets.

"The value to a university of being thus included need not be dwelt upon. Mr. Carnegie's foundation is not a form of charity. It provides for the superannuated, but its appeal is primarily to those actively engaged in teaching. It lifts the whole profession to a higher plane, calls more men to the service of education, enables teachers, by relieving them of the pressure of financial anxiety, to devote their undivided energies to teaching and investigation, and thus pays rich dividends to the State, in better service, happier lives and more untrammelled devotion to the work in hand. It is evident, also, that a university coming within the provisions of the foundation, can draw its teachers from a wider circle and thus command abler men than one not thus included.

"The president and faculty, therefore, of the University of North Carolina, through the undersigned committee, appointed April fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and eight, would hereby petition you to take formal action on this matter and to forward to Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation, five hundred and seventy-six Fifth Avenue, New York, such statement as you may deem proper.

"It is hardly necessary to assure you that the entrance requirements of the University of North Carolina are in advance of those required by the foundation, or to remind you that two former members of the faculty of the University have, through special action, become recipients of Mr. Carnegie's noble action.

(Signed) "C. ALPHONSO SMITH,
"CHAS. H. HERTY,
"H. M. WAGSTAFF, Committee."

Thereupon it was resolved that the recommendation of the communication of the committee is approved, and that a proper statement be prepared and forwarded to the president of the Carnegie Foundation. Approval by trustees.

"I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do most heartily approve the communication of the committee of the faculty of the University on the subject of the Carnegie Foundation Fund and the action of the board of trustees of the said University thereupon. I am satisfied that the University comes up to the entrance requirements for adopting certain colleges on the list to be benefited by the Carnegie Foundation Fund, and I can commend this college and assert that no institution in the South is doing a greater work for the cultivation and elevation of young manhood than the University of North Carolina. Approval by governor.

"R. B. GLENN, Governor."

SEC. 2. That the General Assembly of North Carolina approve the action of the Board of Trustees of the University and the Governor of the State, as set out in section one, and the General Assembly of North Carolina does consent that the University of North Carolina accept the benefits of the Carnegie Foundation Fund. Approval and consent of general assembly.

SEC. 3. That this act shall be in force and effect from and after its ratification.

Ratified this the 27th day of January, A. D. 1909.

That this General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, in regular session, tender to the King and Queen of Italy and their subjects its most profound sympathy in their recent disaster. Profound sympathy tendered.

JOINT RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ESTABLISHING A COALsented to this body that a great saving in cost, in insurance, in time, in distance, on a great portion of the nation's commerce and on the cost of the direct coal supply and provisions for the United States Navy and War Departments by the establishment of a United States coaling station at Southport, North Carolina, and by utilizing the Cape Fear River for over twenty miles to Wilmington; that a great inland safety harbor can be established at small cost that will be closer to the center of population, and to serve the great coal steamers drawing thirty feet of water to run twenty miles back from the ocean and be closer to the Tennessee coal fields than any other such harbor to any other American coal fields on the North American continent, by nearly a hundred miles, that can be made available for so small an amount of money, and which will be the closest tidewater that can float the American navy by nearly a hundred miles, to the great bread, meat and grain producing States than any other harbor on the coast of the United States that can be equipped with so small an amount of money; and whereas South- Preamble.

 English and eastern ports for Southern and Pacific ports; and Preamble.

 nearer all South African, all the West Indian, all the Gulf, all the

 that nearly all of these dangers, risks and extra insurances level canal through Florida; and whereas the saving in time, rate and insurance that can be made, utilizing Southport and the Preamble. Florida Canal for Gulf, Caribbean Sea, Panama and Pacific coast commerce, back and forth from the center of American population, and the Northwest, West and Middle Southwest, will in less than five years far exceed the amount of money needful to secure thirty-five feet depth of water at Southport, North Carolina, for a United States Navy coaling station, and thirty feet depth of water for over twenty miles inland to the city of Wilmington, and twenty-five feet depth of water through Florida, all of which can be accomplished within five years from the beginning of actual work by an expenditure of one million a year for Southport and five millions a year for the Florida canal; and whereas the difference in time made between the movement of freight by water and by rail is that by rail the average time on nonperishable commerce is three miles an hour, while the average time by steamship is twelve miles an hour and by sail ship eight miles an hour; and whereas, in one thousand nine hundred and eight, the United States Navy used eight hundred and thirty-six thousand three hundred and eighty-nine tons of coal, at a cost of six dollars and eighteen cents a ton, practically all delivered north of Cape Hatteras; and whereas all this coal can be delivered to the navy by the establishment of a United States Navy coaling station at Southport, south of Cape Hatteras, at a saving of two dollars and fifty cents a ton, and consequently a proportionate saving in rate on the other supplies for the soldiers that man the navy and for the ships handling Gulf, South American, Panama and Pacific commerce; and whereas the freight rates per ton per mile by water on canal, river, lakes and Gulf commerce is four-fifths of one mill per ton per mile, while by rail it is twelve mills per ton per mile, moving only three miles an hour by rail, against eight and twelve miles an hour for four-fifths of a mill per ton per mile by water; and whereas, in time saved, insurance saved, in freight saved, in distance saved, by land and water, by using Southport and the Florida Canal for the commerce from the West, the center of American population, and the great Tennessee coal fields, for the Gulf, the Caribbean Sea, West India, Panama, South American and Pacific trade, it can be shown that the annual saving will be over ten million dollars per annum, and that the saving for two and a half years will equal the cost of the sea-level canal, with twenty-five feet depth of water, from the Atlantic through Florida to the Gulf, and establish the coaling station and harbor at Southport, and will save by the Florida canal over two hundred million dollars' worth of the richest land on earth, and will develop a country on both sides of the canal for over two hundred and fifty miles that will surpass in fertility and beauty the Valley of the Nile, and the health of which cannot be surpassed in the world; and whereas, when the canal which is now being constructed from Chicago to the Mississippi River is opened and the Panama Canal is opened, there is no inland water way on earth that will offer a greater saving, in time, in insurance rates and in freight rates, in loss of life and ships by wreckage, than the Florida canal, opened in connection with Southport harbor and all Atlantic ports south of Cape Hatteras; and whereas all of the United States Government tidewater coaling stations are now reached by long railroad hauls from the coal fields, at a very high rate, and are practically all north of Cape Hatteras; and whereas seventy-five per cent of all the tidewater expenditures by the nation on the Atlantic coast since the nation's existence has been north of Cape Hatteras: Preamble.

Therefore, these facts, taken with the fact that the South in the past three decades has grown faster in the development of its agricultural, mineral, timber, water powers, manufacturing wealth and the establishment of pleasure resorts for summer and winter than any other territory of the same size in the world; and whereas the great grain fields and cities of the West and the whole South have for years desired the establishment of a great Southern port of entry on the South Atlantic coast which could be reached by the shortest possible railroad lines from the Western grain fields and the center of American population to tidewater; and whereas the South and West are year by year coming more and more to realize that their mutual interest can best be served by joint co-operation in securing through Congress these needful and merited public improvements that they are jointly entitled to; and whereas practically all the long-line haul of the great trunk-line systems of railroads south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi River is north and south; and whereas, because of this reason, they are not interested in a great direct East and West trunk line and the establishment of a great seaport in the middle of the long haul; and whereas the changing of the Isthmian Canal to Panama added an additional two-thousand-mile longer route to the commerce of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys and the Gulf States and the South Atlantic States to reach the Pacific coast, throwing the route for the Panama Canal commerce through the dangerous West Indian passes instead of via the Gulf for eastern commerce, unless the Florida Canal is constructed; and whereas the rate of insurance per ton for risk of passing and repassing of Cape Hatteras for the past three decades has been an aggregate of and the number of lives lost for the same period has been, and the value of commerce lost has been $....., and the number of ships has been, and their total value, as near as can be estimated, has been $.....; and whereas certain States in the South, by public State aid and public county aid, and under the executive control of the State of North Carolina and in the States of Tennessee and South Carolina are co-operating with each other to secure an independent east and west line of railroad, with connection from the great West through the center of American population, the Tennessee coal fields, through to tidewater on the North Carolina coast; and whereas the States of Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Preamble.

Preamble. Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, who paid out of the total internal revenues for one thousand nine hundred and seven (a normal year) one hundred and seventy-nine million seven hundred and eighteen thousand and twenty-two and sixty-seven cents ($179,718,022.67), against the total internal revenue receipts to the Government of two hundred and sixty-nine million six hundred and sixty-four thousand and twenty-two and eighty-five cents ($269,664,022.85); and whereas every one of these States will be both directly and indirectly benefited by the opening of the Southport harbor and the construction of the Florida Canal; and whereas these internal revenue taxes paid by these States is a more direct tax on the people of these States and on their effort to employ labor and manufacture the products of their own resources than any tariff or duty collected at the custom house; and whereas these improvements for better transportation facilities, both by water and by land, will largely increase the manufacturing and general development that produces internal revenue in these States; and whereas less than three per cent per annum, for five and a half years, of the amount these States pay for the support of the National Government will make these needful improvements, which is but a righteous and just compensation for their paying seventy-five per cent of the entire internal revenue, which is a direct tax on the people of these States for the support of the nation, and not one of them but would increase by fourfold the three per cent expended from their own annual income for the support of the nation by making these improvements for the benefit of the whole nation; and whereas, by the unanimous and hearty co-operation of all of these States, by resolution and petition to Congress, they can secure congressional aid for these improvements that will break up the monopoly of the South and Western commerce, wherein it is compelled to pay for the long hauls and to carry the dangers of Cape Hatteras, the danger of the Bahamas, the West Indies, of the Florida Straits, and, with the nation, carry their portion of the burden of extra tax to pay six dollars and eighteen cents a ton on nearly a million tons of coal per annum for the supply of our great navy, when these public improvements will cause this coal to be delivered at three dollars and sixty-eight cents a ton, if not at two dollars and fifty cents a ton, with Government co-operation; and a like saving on food supplies for the navy, which means the same saving for coal for all ships plying in Gulf and Pacific ports, doing commerce with our eastern seaboard, and western Europe reached by way of the Panama Canal: therefore, be it

RESOLUTION IN REGARD TO THE HIGHER EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

Be it resolved by the Senate of North Carolina, the House of Representatives concurring:

Preamble.

Preamble.

Preamble.

That whereas the nation has committed itself to the policy of special educational aid to those who, through misfortune, are not able to avail themselves of the ordinary facilities for higher education, by the establishment and maintenance for over forty years of a college for the deaf at Washington, District of Columbia, which is open to all eligible applicants throughout the United States, free of charge; and whereas there are a number of blind persons in the United States who, with similar opportunities for higher education, would become valuable citizens of the country, useful and productive members of society and in some cases leaders in their communities and in the nation at large; and whereas, at present, although it is fully recognized that it is by the brain rather than by the hand that the blind are most sure to succeed, and that to none does a successfully pursued college course promise more than to the blind, yet only a very small number of blind persons, being such as are possessed of exceptional force of character and of independent financial resources, are able to obtain such benefits of higher education: therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Congress of the United States be respectfully requested to establish a national college for the blind, which shall provide for the higher general and musical education of that class, upon the same terms and conditions as now prevail in case of the deaf. STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,
RALEIGH, March 30, 1909.

I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, hereby certify that the foregoing (manuscript) are true copies of the original acts and resolutions on file in this office.

J. BRYAN GRIMES,
Secretary of State.

NOTE.

The General Assembly enacted a law providing for the classification and publication of the acts of the General Assembly into public, public-local and private laws.

This act was delayed in passage and did not become a law until March 3d, at which time more than 600 acts had been sidenoted and classified, as provided in section 5349 of the Revisal of 1905, and delivered to the State Printers, and several hundred pages had been printed, so it was too late to change the arrangement for 1909.
