The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 14-2.2 reads as rewritten:

"§ 14-2.2. Sentencing of person convicted of repeated felony using deadly weapon.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person who has been previously convicted in the courts of this State within seven years of a felony in which a deadly weapon was used, provided that the previous felony did not occur within 10 days of the second or subsequent felony, in which a deadly weapon was used, shall serve a term for the second or subsequent felony of not less than seven years in prison, excluding gain time granted under G.S. 148-13. Any person sentenced under this section shall receive a sentence of at least 14 years in the State's prison and shall be entitled to credit for good behavior under G.S. 15A-1340.7. The sentencing judge may not sentence a person sentenced under this section as a committed youthful offender and may not suspend the sentence and place the person sentenced on probation. this section shall run consecutively with and shall commence at the expiration of any sentence being served by the person sentenced hereunder.

For the purpose of this section, the record or records of the prior felony conviction shall be admissible in evidence after conviction and before sentencing, but only for the purpose of proving that the person has been convicted of a previous felony. A judgment of a conviction or plea of guilty or no contest to such felony offense certified to a superior court in this State from the custodian of records of any other court of this State under the same name as that by which the defendant is charged shall be prima facie evidence that the identity of such person is the same as the defendant so charged and shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so certified.

For the purposes of this section, a felony committed before a person attains the age of 18 years does not constitute a previous felony conviction.

Pleas of guilty or no contest to or convictions of felony offenses prior to September 1, 1977, are not felony offenses within the meaning of this section. Any felony offense to which a pardon has been extended does not for the purpose of this section constitute a felony. The burden of proving a pardon rests with the defendant and the State is not required to disprove a pardon.

The court shall not sentence a person sentenced under this section as a committed youthful offender. The court shall not suspend any sentence imposed under this section and shall not place a person sentenced under this section on probation for the sentence imposed under this section.
