BILL SUMMARY: Creates a moratorium making it unlawful for any person to own, operate, or cause to be operated any video gaming machine, which was not in operation in this State on or before June 29, 2000. The moratorium expires July 1, 2002. The bill also prohibits more than three video gaming machines at one location and regulates the proximity to other locations; requiring at least 300 feet of distance from any other location where machines are in operation. The bill exempts any activities of a federally recognized Indian Tribe, which are currently lawful.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Judicial Branch

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) has no data from which to estimate the number of new prosecutions that would arise from this bill. It is impossible to predict compliance with a new law and therefore, impossible to predict the impact on the court system. The Fiscal Research Division believes that if there is any impact, it would not be substantial and AOC could most likely absorb it within existing resources because the workload would be spread statewide.

Department of Corrections (Sentencing Commission)

While it is not possible to estimate the number of convictions that will result from this bill, the Sentencing Commission projects that 48% of all convictions for Class G felonies result in active sentences. Therefore, 10 convictions would result in a need for less than 5 additional prison beds.
