GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA SESSION 2003

H HOUSE BILL 1167

Referred to: Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House. April 10, 2003 A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT TO LIMIT SESSION LENGTH BY LIMITING THE NUMBER OF DAYS OF PER DIEM PAID TO MEMBERS. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts: SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: April 10, 2003 A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT TO LIMIT SESSION LENGTH BY LIMITING THE NUMBER OF DAYS OF PER DIEM PAID TO MEMBERS. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts: SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT TO LIMIT SESSION LENGTH BY LIMITING THE NUMBER OF DAYS OF PER DIEM PAID TO MEMBERS. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts: SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be AN ACT TO LIMIT SESSION LENGTH BY LIMITING THE NUMBER OF DAYS OF PER DIEM PAID TO MEMBERS. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts: SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be OF PER DIEM PAID TO MEMBERS. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts: SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts: SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be SECTION 1. G.S. 120-3.1 is amended by adding new subsections to read: "(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be
"(e) During an odd-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be session for more than 135 calendar days during that year, the period after the 135 th day but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be but before the end of that calendar year, shall for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be entitled to subsistence and travel allowance during that period, except: (1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be
(1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or (2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be
(2) During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 135 th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session. The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be The 135-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be a period of not more than 10 days. If the General Assembly, upon convening of the regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be regular session, meets for not more than five consecutive calendar days and then adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be adjourns for more than three days, both the initial period of not more than five days and the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be the period of adjournment shall be excluded from the 135 days. (f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be
(f) During an even-numbered year, if the General Assembly has been in regular session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be session for more than 60 calendar days during that year, the period after the 60 th day but before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be before the end of that calendar year shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be be a period when the General Assembly is not in session, and no member shall be
(1) Under circumstances which would entitle that member to subsistence and travel allowance when the General Assembly is not in session; or

During one extra session held during that calendar year after the 60th day, but only for the first 20 calendar days of that extra session.

(2)

- The 60-day period may be extended by joint resolution once per regular session for a period of not more than 10 days.
- 3 (g) Any reconvened session called under Section 5 of Article III of this 4 Constitution shall be excluded from the operation of subsections (e) and (f) of this 5 section."

6 SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.