3 ANNIVERSARY OF HIS BIRTH.

4 Whereas, Marie-Joseph-Paul-Yves-Roch-Gilbert Du Motier, commonly 5 known as the Marquis de Lafayette, was born September 6, 1757, at Chateau Chavaniac 6 in the Auverne section of southern France; and

7 Whereas, Lafayette joined the Continental Army of George Washington
8 during the American Revolution and was awarded the commission of Major General in 9 1777 at the age of 19, making him the youngest general of the Revolutionary War; and

10 Whereas, Lafayette risked his life and fought with courage during the fierce 11 onslaught of the British and Hessian forces at the Battle of Brandywine, braving musket
12 fire and bayonets and was shot in the leg, thus spilling blood for the American cause; 13 and

14 Whereas, Lafayette's strategic thinking, military skill, loyalty, and dedication
15 as a general officer and diplomat were invaluable to General George Washington 16 throughout the Revolutionary War; and

17 Whereas, Lafayette not only agreed to serve in the American army without 18 pay, but also used his considerable personal wealth and influence to support the 19 American cause in the procurement of financial and material support; and

20 Whereas, Lafayette was instrumental in expediting the delivery of the French 21 Expeditionary Force with more than 6,000 elite troops, artillery pieces, munitions, and 22 ships which arrived in America in July of 1780; and

23 Whereas, the Marquis de Lafayette's portrait hangs in the Chamber of the 24 United States House of Representatives, an honor given to no other foreign dignitary;
25 and

26 Whereas, the two colonial towns of Cross Creek and Campbelton were 27 merged in 1783 and named Fayetteville, the first city in the United States named in 28 honor of the Marquis de Lafayette, and the only one named for him that he actually 29 visited; and

1 Whereas, the examples set by his conduct and selfless love of liberty have 2 and will continue to be a valuable legacy for all citizens of the United States and free 3 people everywhere; Now, therefore,
