

Veterans Treatment Courts

North Carolina has four established veterans' treatment courts, which are located in Buncombe, Cumberland, Forsyth, and Harnett counties. Because the General Assembly eliminated state court funding for court programs, establishing a new treatment court typically falls to the local community. However, NCAOC can provide technical support and assistance to those communities interested in starting a court. For your information, attached is "the Ten Key Components of Veterans Treatment Court."

Source: Administrative Office of the Courts