(2) Exclusionary.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in G.S. 31D-2-204, general.

"§ 31D-2-204. Exception to presumption of unlimited authority.

Unless the terms of the instrument creating a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, the power is nongeneral if both of the following apply:

(1) The power is exercisable only at the powerholder's death.

(2) The permissible appointees of the power are a defined and limited class that does not include the powerholder's estate, the powerholder's creditors, or the creditors of the powerholder's estate.

"§ 31D-2-205. Rules of classification.

(a) In this section, the term "adverse party" means a person with a substantial beneficial interest in property who would be affected adversely by a powerholder's exercise or nonexercise of a power of appointment in favor of the powerholder, the powerholder's estate, a creditor of the powerholder, or a creditor of the powerholder's estate.

(b) If a powerholder may exercise a power of appointment only with the consent or joinder of an adverse party, the power is nongeneral.

(c) If the permissible appointees of a power of appointment are not defined and limited, the power is exclusionary.

"§ 31D-2-206. Power to revoke or amend.

A donor may revoke or amend a power of appointment only to the extent that either of the following apply:

(1) The instrument creating the power is revocable by the donor.

(2) The donor reserves a power of revocation or amendment in the instrument creating the power of appointment.

"Article 3.

"Exercise of Power of Appointment.

"§ 31D-3-301. Requisites for exercise of power of appointment.

A power of appointment is exercised only to the extent that the appointment is a permissible exercise of the power, and only if all of the following apply:

- (1) The instrument exercising the power is valid under applicable law.
- (2) The terms of the instrument exercising the power manifest the powerholder's intent to exercise the power.
- (3) Subject to the provisions of G.S. 31D-3-304, the terms of the instrument exercising the power satisfy the requirements of exercise, if any, imposed by the donor.

"§ 31D-3-302. Intent to exercise: determining intent from residuary clause.

A residuary clause that does not contain a blanket-exercisable clause or specific exercise clause manifests the powerholder's intent to exercise a power of appointment only if all of the following apply:

- (1) The terms of the instrument containing the residuary clause (including any valid codicil or amendment to the instrument) do not manifest a contrary intent.
- (2) The power is a general power exercisable in favor of the powerholder's estate.
- (3) There is no gift-in-default clause or the clause is ineffective.
- (4) The powerholder did not release the power.

"§ 31D-3-303. Intent to exercise after acquired power.

Unless the terms of an instrument exercising a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent:

- (1) If the powerholder is not also the donor of the power, a blanket-exercise clause in the instrument extends to a power acquired by the powerholder after executing the instrument containing the clause.
- (2) If the powerholder is also the donor of the power, the blanket-exercise clause extends to the power acquired by the powerholder after executing the instrument only if there is no gift-in-default clause or the gift-in-default clause is ineffective. The blanket-exercise clause does not extend to the power if there is a gift-in-default clause that is effective.

"§ 31D-3-304. Substantial compliance with donor-imposed formal requirement.

A powerholder's substantial compliance with a formal requirement of appointment imposed by the donor, including a requirement that the instrument exercising the power of appointment make reference or specific reference to the power, is sufficient if both of the following apply:

- (1) The powerholder knows of and intends to exercise the power.
- (2) The powerholder's manner of attempted exercise of the power does not impair a material purpose of the donor in imposing the requirement.

"§ 31D-3-305. Permissible appointment.

(a) If a powerholder of a general power of appointment permits appointment to the powerholder or the powerholder's estate, the powerholder may make any appointment, including an appointment in trust or an appointment that creates a new power of appointment that the powerholder could make in disposing of the powerholder's own property.

(b) If a powerholder of a general power of appointment permits appointment only to the creditors of the powerholder or the creditors of the powerholder's estate, or both, the powerholder may appoint only to those creditors.

(c) Unless the terms of the instrument creating a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, the powerholder of a nongeneral power may:

- (1) Make an appointment in any form, including an appointment in trust, in favor of a permissible appointee.
- (2) Create a general power in a permissible appointee.

(d) The terms of the instrument may permit the powerholder of a nongeneral power to create a nongeneral power in any person to appoint to one or more of the permissible appointees of the original nongeneral power.

"§ 31D-3-306. Appointment to deceased appointee.

An appointment to a deceased appointee is ineffective.

"§ 31D-3-307. Impermissible appointment.

(a) An exercise of a power of appointment in favor of an impermissible appointee is ineffective.

(b) An exercise of a power of appointment in favor of a permissible appointee is ineffective to the extent that the appointment is a fraud on the power.

"§ 31D-3-308. Selective allocation doctrine.

If a powerholder exercises a power of appointment in a disposition that also disposes of property the powerholder owns, the owned property and the appointive property must be allocated in the permissible manner that best carries out the powerholder's intent.

"§ 31D-3-309. Capture doctrine: disposition of ineffectively appointed property under general power.

To the extent a powerholder of a general power of appointment, other than a power to withdraw property from, revoke, or amend a trust, makes an ineffective appointment:

(1) The gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the ineffectively appointed property.

(2) If there is no gift-in-default clause or to the extent the clause is ineffective, the ineffectively appointed property passes as follows:

a. To the powerholder if the powerholder is a permissible appointee and living.

b. If the powerholder is an impermissible appointee or deceased, to the powerholder's estate if the estate is a permissible appointee.

c. If the powerholder is an impermissible appointee or deceased and if the estate is not a permissible appointee, under a reversionary interest to the donor or the donor's transferee or successor in interest.

"§ 31D-3-310. Disposition of unappointed property under released or unexercised general power.

(a) To the extent that a powerholder releases a general power of appointment other than a power to withdraw property from, revoke, or amend a trust, the gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the unappointed property. If there is no gift-in-default clause or to the extent that the clause is ineffective, the unappointed property passes under a reversionary interest to the donor or the donor's transferee or successor in interest.

(b) To the extent a powerholder fails to exercise a general power of appointment other than a power to withdraw property from, revoke, or amend a trust, the gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the unappointed property. If there is no gift-in-default clause or to the extent the clause is ineffective, the unappointed property passes as follows:

(1) To the powerholder if the powerholder is a permissible appointee and living.

(2) If the powerholder is an impermissible appointee or deceased, to the powerholder's estate if the estate is a permissible appointee.

(3) If the powerholder is an impermissible appointee or deceased and if the estate is not a permissible appointee, under a reversionary interest to the donor or the donor's transferee or successor in interest.

"§ 31D-3-311. Disposition of unappointed property under released or unexercised nongeneral power.

To the extent that a powerholder releases, ineffectively exercises, or fails to exercise a nongeneral power of appointment:

- (1) The gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the unappointed property.
- (2) If there is no gift-in-default clause, or to the extent that the clause is ineffective, the unappointed property:
 - a. Passes to the permissible appointees, if both of the following apply:
 1. The permissible appointees are defined and limited.
 2. The terms of the instrument creating the power do not manifest a contrary intent.
 - b. If there is no taker under sub-subdivision (2)a. of this section, passes under a reversionary interest to the donor or the donor's transferee or successor in interest.

"§ 31D-3-312. Disposition of unappointed property if partial appointment to taker in default.

Unless the terms of the instrument creating or exercising a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, if the powerholder makes a valid partial appointment to a taker in default of appointment, then the taker in default of appointment may share fully in unappointed property.

"§ 31D-3-313. Appointment to taker in default.

If a powerholder makes an appointment to a taker in default of appointment and the appointee would have taken the property under a gift-in-default clause had the property not been appointed, then the power of appointment is deemed not to have been exercised and the appointee takes under the clause.

"§ 31D-3-314. Powerholder's authority to revoke or amend exercise.

If the terms of an instrument creating a power of appointment do not prohibit the powerholder from revoking or amending an exercise of the power, a powerholder may revoke or amend the exercise of a power only if one of the following apply:

- (1) The instrument creating the exercise of the power of appointment may be revoked or amended.
- (2) The powerholder reserves a power of revocation or amendment in the instrument exercising the power of appointment.

"§ 31D-4-403. Method of release.

A powerholder of a releasable power of appointment may release the power in whole or in part as follows:

- (1) By substantial compliance with a method provided in the terms of the instrument creating the power.
- (2) If the terms of the instrument creating the power do not provide a method or the method provided in the terms of the instrument is not expressly made exclusive, by an instrument manifesting the powerholder's intent by clear and convincing evidence.

"§ 31D-4-404. Revocation or amendment of release.

A powerholder may revoke or amend a release of a power of appointment only to the extent that one of the following applies:

(1) The instrument of release is revocable by the powerholder.

(2) The powerholder reserves a power of revocation or amendment in the instrument of release.

"§ 31D-4-405. Power to contract: presently exercisable power of appointment.

A powerholder of a presently exercisable power of appointment may contract:

(1) Not to exercise the power.

(2) To exercise the power if the contract when made does not confer a benefit on an impermissible appointee.

"§ 31D-4-406. Power to contract: power of appointment not presently exercisable.

A powerholder of a power of appointment that is not presently exercisable may contract to exercise or not to exercise the power only if the powerholder both:

(1) Is also the donor of the power.

(2) Has reserved the power in a revocable trust.

"§ 31D-4-407. Remedy for breach of contract to appoint or not to appoint.

The remedy for a powerholder's breach of a contract to appoint or not to appoint appointive property is limited to damages payable out of the appointive property or, if appropriate, specific performance of the contract.

SECTION 4.(b) Article 13 of Chapter 28A of the General Statutes is amended by adding three new sections to read:

"§ 28A-13-3.1. Power of personal representative to deal with real property without a court order.

(a) A personal representative may, without court order, take possession, custody, and control of the decedent's real property and sell, exchange, give options upon, partition, lease, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of the property to the extent that the will expressly grants any of these powers to the personal representative by any of the following grants of power:

(1) Incorporation by reference of the powers in G.S. 32-27 when title to the real property is devised to the personal representative.

(2) An express power granted to the personal representative in the will when title to the real property is devised to the personal representative.

(3) An express power granted to the personal representative in the will when title to the real property is not devised to the personal representative, if (i) the decedent specifically indicates an intent that the power applies to real property and (ii) the personal representative determines that exercise of the power with respect to the real property complies with an express standard set forth by the decedent in the will or, if no such standard is set forth, is in the best interest of the estate. For purposes of this section, provisions in the will stating that the power applies to the real property "whether or not title is devised to the personal representative" or "even though title is not devised to the personal representative" or other similar language is sufficient to indicate such an intent.

(b) No party dealing with the personal representative is under a duty to (i) follow the proceeds or other consideration received by the personal representative from the disposition of the real property pursuant to the exercise of a power authorized by this section or (ii) determine whether the exercise of the power complies with an express standard set forth by the decedent in the will or, if no such standard is set forth, is in the best interest of the estate.

"§ 28A-13-3.2. Notice of exercise of power with respect to real property not devised to personal representative.

(a) If in accordance with G.S. 28A-13-3.1(a)(3) a personal representative intends to exercise a power with respect to real property of the decedent not devised to the personal representative, the personal representative shall give written notice of the personal representative's intent to exercise that power to the devisees of the real property. The notice shall include a description of the real property that is the subject of the notice and a summary of the power the personal representative intends to exercise. The notice shall further include a statement that the devisees of the real property have 30 days from the service date of the notice to file a petition before the clerk under G.S. 28A-2-6 contesting the authority of the personal representative under G.S. 28A-13-3.1(a)(3) to exercise the power the personal representative intends to exercise."

(b) The notice required under this section shall be served on each devisee of the real property in accordance with the provisions of Rule 4(j) and Rule 4(j1) of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure at least 30 days prior to the date on which the personal representative intends to exercise the power.

(c) If no devisee files a petition within 30 days after being served with the notice required under this section, the personal representative shall be entitled to exercise the power with respect to the real property, and the devisees of the real property shall have no further right to contest or challenge the power the personal representative intends to exercise. In such event, the personal representative shall file in the office of the clerk of court in the county where the estate is being administered, as well as in the office of the clerk of court in the county where the real property is located, a copy of the notice required by this section, together with an affidavit of the personal representative or the attorney for the personal representative to the effect that a copy of the notice was served on each devisee entitled to receive notice in accordance with this section and that no devisee filed an action within the requisite time period to determine whether the personal representative had the power with respect to the real property. Such notice and affidavit shall be filed prior to the date on which the personal representative intends to exercise the power.

(d) The affidavit filed pursuant to subsection (c) of this section may be relied upon by all persons as proof of all representations in the affidavit pursuant to subsection (c) of this section in absence of actual knowledge to the contrary.

(e) Notice otherwise required under this section need not be given to a devisee who consents in writing to the exercise of the power by the personal representative and files that written consent with the clerk of superior court in the county where the estate is being administered.

(f) For purposes of this section, the term "devisee" means all persons who have a vested interest in the real property over which the personal representative intends to exercise a power under G.S. 28A-13-3.1(a)(3) and who are in being at the time the personal representative gives notice pursuant to this section.

§ 28A-13-3.3. Reimbursement of devisees for payment of carrying costs.

(a) If in accordance with G.S. 28A-13.3.1(a)(3) the representative sells or exchanges the decedent's real property not devised to the personal representative a devisee shall be entitled to reimbursement from the net proceeds arising from the sale or exchange of all carrying costs incurred by the devisee before the personal representative took possession, custody, and control of the real property.

(b) As used in this section, "carrying costs" are the amounts paid by the devisee for any of the following:

- (1) Insurance, ad valorem taxes, or other governmental charges or assessments on the real property.

- (3) Payment of principal and interest on any indebtedness incurred before the decedent's death that is secured by a lien against the real property.

In no case shall carrying costs include betterments to the real property made by the devisee.

(c) Any devisee claiming reimbursement for carrying costs under this section shall present a claim to the personal representative in writing not later than 30 days after a valid deed executed pursuant to the sale or exchange is recorded and served on the devisee in accordance with the provisions of Rule 5 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. If the personal representative determines the claim to be valid and reasonable, the claim shall be paid to the extent there are sufficient net proceeds. As used in this subsection, net proceeds are the gross proceeds arising from the sale or exchange of the real property reduced by expenses of the sale and all amounts paid to discharge any indebtedness secured by liens against the real property; except that any indebtedness secured by a lien against the property that is assumed by the purchaser shall not be deducted in determining the net proceeds arising from the sale or exchange. If the personal representative rejects the claim, then G.S. 28A-19-15 and G.S. 28A-19-16 apply."

SECTION 4.(c) G.S. 28A-15-1(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) If it shall be determined by the personal representative that it is in the best interest of the administration of the estate to sell, exchange, give options upon, partition, lease, or mortgage ~~or mortgage~~, or otherwise dispose of any real estate or interest therein to obtain money for the payment of debts and other claims against the decedent's estate, the personal representative shall institute a special proceeding before the clerk of superior court for such purpose pursuant to Article 17 of this Chapter, except that no such proceeding shall be required for a sale made pursuant to authority given by will. A general provision granting authority to the personal representative to sell the testator's real property, or incorporation by reference of the provisions of G.S. 32-27(2) shall be sufficient to eliminate the necessity for a proceeding under Article 17. sale, exchange, option, partition, lease, mortgage, or other disposition under G.S. 28A-13-3.1. If a special proceeding has been instituted by the personal representative pursuant to G.S. 28A-13-3(c), the personal representative may petition for sale, lease, or mortgage of any real property as a part of that proceeding and is not required to institute a separate special proceeding."

SECTION 4.(d) 28A-15-2 reads as rewritten:

"§ 28A-15-2. Title and possession of property.

(a) Personal Property. – Subsequent to the death of the decedent and prior to the appointment and qualification of the personal representative or collector, the title and the right of possession of personal property of the decedent is vested in the decedent's heirs; but upon the appointment and qualification of the personal representative or collector, the heirs shall be divested of such title and right of possession which shall be vested in the personal representative or collector relating back to the time of the decedent's death for purposes of administering the estate of the decedent. But, if in the opinion of the personal representative, the personal representative's possession, custody and control of any item of personal property is not necessary for purposes of administration, such possession, custody and control may be left with or surrendered to the heir or devisee presumptively entitled thereto.

(b) Real Property: Property: Title. – The title to real property of a decedent ~~is vested in the decedent's heirs as of the time of the decedent's death; but the title to real property of a decedent devised under a valid probated will becomes vested in the devisees and shall relate back to the decedent's death, subject to the provisions of G.S. 31-39.~~ vests as follows:

(1) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (2) and (3) of this subsection, title to real property of a decedent is vested in the decedent's heirs as of the time of the decedent's death.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subdivision (3) of this subsection and the provisions of G.S. 28A-17-12 and G.S. 31-39, title to real property of a decedent devised under a valid probated will becomes vested in the devisee and relates back to the decedent's death.

(3) If a decedent's will grants the personal representative a power under G.S. 28A-13-3.1 to transfer the title to the decedent's real property by sale, exchange, or partition, the transfer of the title pursuant to the exercise of that power divests the devisees or heirs of title to the real property and vests title in the grantee of the instrument transferring title. The devisees' or heirs' title is divested, and the title becomes vested in the grantee upon delivery of the instrument transferring title to the grantee. Any transfer of title to real property pursuant to Article 17 of this Chapter also divests the devisees or heirs of the title to that real property and vests title pursuant to the procedure in Article 17 of this Chapter.

(c) Real Property: Options, Leases, or Mortgages. – An option, lease, or mortgage of the decedent's real property by the personal representative under G.S. 28A-13-3.1 or under Article 17 of this Chapter encumbers the devisee's or heir's title upon the recordation of the applicable instrument creating or evidencing the option, lease, or mortgage according to law or upon the execution of the lease if the lease is not required to be recorded by G.S. 47-18 and is not recorded.

(d) Real Property: Docketed Judgments or Other Liens Against Heir or Devisee. – The interest of any heir or devisee and any person claiming through or against any heir or devisee, including a person holding a docketed judgment or other lien against an heir or devisee, is subject to the personal representative's right to sell, exchange, give options upon, partition,

1 lease, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of the real property of the decedent, either under
2 G.S. 28A-13-3.1 or under Article 17 of this Chapter; however, the proceeds from any such sale
3 or other disposition shall be available to satisfy or reduce the amount of any valid judgment
4 outstanding against an heir or devisee to the extent that the proceeds are distributable to that 5 heir or devisee. Any sale, exchange, option, partition, lease, mortgage, or other disposition of 6 the real property of the decedent, either under G.S. 28A-13-3.1 or under Article 17 of this
7 Chapter, shall be free and clear of the interest of any person claiming through or against an heir
8 or devisee, and any interest in the decedent's real property acquired by the recipient of a sale,
9 exchange, option, lease, mortgage, or other disposition shall not be subject to the interest of any 10 person claiming through or against any heir or devisee."

11 SECTION 4.(e) G.S. 28A-22-1 reads as rewritten:

12 "§ 28A-22-1. Scheme of distribution; testate and intestate estates.

13 After the payment of costs of administration, taxes and other valid claims against the 14 decedent's estate, the personal representative shall distribute the remaining assets of the estate
15 in accordance with the terms of decedent's valid probated will or the provisions of Chapter 29
16 of the General Statutes or as otherwise lawfully authorized. Assets remaining from the sale of 17 real property by the personal representative retain the character of real property for purposes of 18 distribution to the devisee or heir, or persons having liens against the devisee or heir only."

19 SECTION 4.(f) G.S. 28A-23-3(b) reads as rewritten:

20 "(b) In determining the amount of the commissions, both upon personal property
21 received and upon expenditures made, the clerk of superior court shall consider the time,
22 responsibility, trouble and skill involved in the management of the estate. Where real property
23 is sold to pay debts or devises, the commission shall be computed only on the proceeds actually 24 applied in the payment of debts or devises. When real property is sold for other reasons under 25 G.S. 28-13-3.1, the proceeds of the sale shall not be considered in computing the commission."

26 SECTION 4.1 G.S. 30-3.A(e) reads as rewritten:

27 "(e) Partial or Contingent Interest Property. – The valuation of partial and contingent 28 property interests, outright or in trust, which are limited to commence or terminate upon the 29 death of one or more persons, upon the expiration of a period of time, or upon the occurrence of 30 one or more contingencies, shall be determined by computations based upon the mortality and 31 annuity tables set forth in G.S. 8-46 and G.S. 8-47, and by using a presumed rate of return of 32 six percent (6%) of the value of the underlying property in which those interests are 33 ~~limited~~ limited, unless upon good cause shown by one of the parties, the clerk determines that 34 the use of such tables or rate of return is not appropriate, then the value of such interests shall 35 be determined under subsection (f) of this section. However, in valuing partial and contingent 36 interests passing to the surviving spouse, the following special rules apply:

- 37 (1) The value of the beneficial interest of a spouse shall be the entire fair market
38 value of any property held in trust if the decedent was the settlor of the trust, 39 if the trust is held for the exclusive benefit of the surviving spouse during the 40 surviving spouse's lifetime, and if the terms of the trust meet the following 41 requirements:
- 42 a. During the lifetime of the surviving spouse, the trust is controlled by 43 one or more nonadverse trustees.
 - 44 b. The trustee shall distribute to or for the benefit of the surviving 45 spouse either (i) the entire net income of the trust at least annually or 46 (ii) the income of the trust in such amounts and at such times as the 47 trustee, in its discretion, determines necessary for the health, 48 maintenance, and support of the surviving spouse.
 - 49 c. The trustee shall distribute to or for the benefit of the surviving 50 spouse out of the principal of the trust such amounts and at such times as the trustee, in its discretion, determines necessary for the health, maintenance, and support of the surviving spouse.

d. In exercising discretion, the trustee may be authorized or required to take into consideration all other income assets and other means of support available to the surviving spouse.

(2) To the extent that the partial or contingent interest is dependent upon the occurrence of any contingency that is not subject to the control of the surviving spouse and that is not subject to valuation by reference to the mortality and annuity tables set forth in G.S. 8-46 and G.S. 8-47, the contingency will be conclusively presumed to result in the lowest possible value passing to the surviving spouse. However, a life estate or income interest that will terminate upon the surviving spouse's death or remarriage will be valued without regard to the possibility of termination upon remarriage.

~~(3) To the extent that the valuation of a partial or contingent interest is dependent upon the life expectancy of the surviving spouse, that life expectancy shall be conclusively presumed to be no less than 10 years, regardless of the actual attained age of the surviving spouse at the decedent's death."~~

The trustee of the original trust may exercise this power whether or not there is a current need to distribute principal or income under any standard provided in the terms of the original trust. The trustee's special power to appoint trust principal or income in further trust under this section includes the power to create the second trust. The permissible appointees of the power of appointment conferred upon a beneficiary may include persons who are not beneficiaries of the original or second trust. The power of appointment conferred upon a beneficiary shall be subject to the provisions of G.S. 41-23 specifying the permissible period allowed for the suspension of the power of alienation of the original trust and the time from which that permissible period is computed.

- c. A "disabled beneficiary" means a current beneficiary of the original trust who the trustee determines has a condition that substantially impairs the beneficiary's ability to provide for his or her own support, care, or custody whether or not the beneficiary has been adjudicated a "disabled person" by any government agency or department.
